Rhett & Scarlett Reunited...For the Evening

Jonesboro, GA - The Road to Tara Museum and the Clayton County Convention and Visitors Bureau are excited to bring a series of events over the next 13 months in celebration of the 75th Anniversary of "Gone With The Wind," the movie. To kick off the fete, the Road to Tara Museum is hosting "Rhett & Scarlett Reunited...For the Evening" on November 8, 2013.

Guests will enjoy food, entertainment, photo opportunities with our very own Rhett and Scarlett and take in the newly expanded Atlanta Campaign and Battle of Jonesboro exhibits. The big unveiling of the night and the reason for the event is the addition of two new Gone With The Wind themed exhibits. The first will showcase the four primary character portrait roundels that hung on the Richardson Building across the street from the Loew's Grand Theater at the movie's premiere in 1939. These portraits of Scarlett, Rhett, Ashley, and Melanie have not been seen in Georgia since the premiere event. The second addition is an expanded exhibit on Ann Rutherford and her beloved character Carreen O'Hara. One of a kind signed memorabilia including original oil painting by Joseph Yakovetic, decorative pillow adorned with Walter Plunkett's dress design and Gone With The Wind themed colorful miniature truck with signatures from many Gone With The Wind's favorite actors will be on display.

November 8th has a special tie in to Gone With The Wind; it's Margaret Mitchell's birthday. "We chose to start our celebration on Margaret Mitchell's birthday, since she was the one who created these characters that have held the attention of millions for over 75 years. We are very excited to be able to showcase these items and expand our Gone With the Wind memorabilia for fans and visitors to enjoy," explains Danielle Conroy, Director of Marketing and Communications at the Clayton County Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Tickets are $25 per person and includes the VIP reception, photo opportunity with Rhett & Scarlett and commemorative gifts. Advance tickets are required; Call 1-800-662-7829 to reserve tickets. The event will be on November 8, 2013 from 5:00 pm - 7:00 pm.
