"Howard County is home of some of the best restaurants in the region," said County Executive Allan H. Kittleman. "There are so many wonderful options to get a tremendous meal. So whether they're trying out a new restaurant or going back to familiar one, I hope residents make a point of supporting a local restaurant, especially during this 10th anniversary week."

New to Howard County and Restaurant Weeks is Lib's Grill. Nick Liberatore of Liberatore's Ristorante & Catering Group opened a second location for Lib's Grill in Maple Lawn in January 2018 and says, "Lib's Grill is extremely excited to be partnering with Visit Howard County for our inaugural Restaurant Week in Maple Lawn. We are excited to showcase our chef inspired menu items and our warm Liberatore hospitality."

Amanda Hof, Director of Tourism Development for Visit Howard County coordinates the program and adds "with so many new restaurants Howard County is quickly becoming a foodie hotspot. There are more choices than ever. This is a great opportunity for visitors and residents alike to try something new."

To mark the 10th anniversary of this delicious promotion, diners who choose to capture their favorite meals on camera and post them to social media with the hashtag #HoCoRestaurantWeeks will be entered to win a weekend getaway courtesy of Visit Howard County and several partners.
