Tell your story as only you can. We have provided a brief checklist of things you may want to include, but add whatever you like. It's your wedding, your announcement, your story.
Photos: A photograph of the bride and groom may accompany the story if you wish. Submit one high-resolution photo, along with this form. Digital photos sent via email are preferred. Mailed copies will be returned after publication.
Faces of the bride and groom should be visible in the photo. Black and white photos reproduce better than color.
Items you may want to include in your announcement:
Bride's full maiden name Groom's full name Parents of the bride and groom Wedding attendants Date and location of the wedding Location of the honeymoon
Wedding details: music, special vows, person officiating the ceremony, etc.
Type your information in the box below. A member of our staff will follow up to discuss our editing process and give you the exact size and price of your announcement.

By submitting this announcement, you certify that the information submitted for publication is true, not defamatory, does not invade the privacy of any person and does not infringe any copyright. You agree to hold harmless The Register-Guard, Guard Publishing, its employees and agents, from and against all claims and expenses (including attorney fees and expenses) arising out of the publication of material supplied by you for the publication.
