Attractions

WATER RECREATION

Laughlin offers a variety of water activities, including boating, waterskiing, fishing, or taking a refreshing dip. There's plenty of launch ramps and watercraft rental services along the river. Or enjoy a casual stroll on the River Walk, a scenic ride aboard a paddle wheel steamship replica, or dinner cruises with a narrated history of Laughlin and the surrounding area.

At Lake Mohave, Katherine Landing and Cottonwood Cove marinas offer RV services, boat rentals, launch ramps, swimming beaches, picnic areas, restaurants, and other resort amenities. Or take a trip to Lake Mead, the country's largest manmade lake, and Hoover Dam, a national historic landmark and the highest concrete dam in the Western Hemisphere. Alongside the Hoover Dam is the Mike O'Callaghan-Pat Tillman Memorial Bridge. It's the first concrete-steel composite arch bridge built in the U.S., with the longest arch in the Western Hemisphere, standing at 840 feet above the Colorado River.

HIKING AND TRAILS

Colorado River Heritage Greenway Park and Trails, or Heritage Trails, consists of 10.5 miles of trails for bicyclists, pedestrians and equestrian riders of all abilities. The new park includes a children's play area, picnic sites, shade shelters, fishing piers, and a highway pedestrian bridge overpass.

Christmas Tree Pass, Grapevine Canyon and Spirit Mountain offer visitors a mixture of rugged beauty, rich wildlife and ancient history. Grapevine Canyon features a small desert spring that flows almost year-round and petroglyphs along the canyon from inhabitants dating to as early as A.D. 1100. Spirit Mountain, the highest peak in the Newberry Mountain range at 5,639 feet, looms above the canyon and is considered the beginning of creation – a sacred place to Indian tribes in Southern Nevada and the first Indian land in the state to be placed on the National Register of Historic Places. Guided UTV excursions and rentals are available for further exploration of the surrounding landscape.

REGIONAL ATTRACTIONS

Oatman, located 45 minutes from Laughlin on historic Route 66, began as a tent camp in 1906 and flourished as a thriving gold-mining center until 1942. Now the town offers visitors a look back into the Wild West as it really was, complete with gift shops, restaurants, staged gunfights and friendly feral burros.

Lake Havasu, easily accessible by a jet-boat tour, is a favorite excursion for Laughlin visitors. Connecting the mainland to a manmade island is the famous London Bridge – brought over brick by brick from England and reassembled on the shore of Lake Havasu in 1971. Nearby Topock Gorge has ancient petroglyphs and abundant desert wildlife, along with superb fishing and kayaking.

Keepers of the Wild, located 59 miles east of Laughlin, is a nature park and exotic animal sanctuary where you can visit wildlife from around the world in one day. Local tour companies offer day trips to Keepers of the Wild, Oatman, Hoover Dam, distillery and wineries, the Grand Canyon and the Skywalk.

SHOPPING

Laughlin resorts provide visitors with a boutique shopping experience from casual and upscale resort wear to jewelry and accessories for that vacation wardrobe. A unique world-famous store located inside the Riverside Resort, The Watch Man, has thousands of watches and timepieces, all under $20. The General Store inside Laughlin River Lodge carries all your vacation essentials, from beachwear to personal items, fun and unusual souvenirs, packaged foods, beer, wine and liquor.
