

2019 MR. OLYMPIA

Now in its 55th year, help the Host Committee welcome more than 70,000 serious fitness enthusiasts to the Las Vegas Convention Center and Orleans Arena for Joe Weider's Olympia Fitness & Performance Weekend 2019, Sept. 12–15.

Olympia Weekend is a multifaceted event featuring the Olympia Fitness & Performance Expo, a gathering of the industry's most influential brands and fitness-focused consumers, held at the Las Vegas Convention Center, Sept. 13–14. This year, the fitness industry's premier event showcases Academy Award-nominated actor, Mark Wahlberg's, Performance Inspired Nutrition, a successful line of all-natural, high-performance, active-lifestyle products.

The weekend also includes the world-famous Mr. Olympia competition held at the Orleans Arena, an event that has expanded in recent years to include the Bikini Olympia, Fitness Olympia, Figure Olympia, Physique Olympia, and a series of major titles regarded as the sport's most coveted prize, Sept. 12–15. Regarded as one of this generation's most popular bodybuilders, Jay Cutler is the 2019 honorary ambassador.

Trifecta, the nation's largest organic meal delivery service, is the new title sponsor of Joe Weider's Olympia Fitness & Performance Weekend.

The finals for the Men's Physique Olympia and Women's Physique Olympia will now be held on the main arena stage, which means, for the first time in the history of the event, the champions of all eight Olympia pro divisions will be crowned during the Friday and Saturday evening arena finals.
