

2019 NHL AWARDS

The 2019 NHL Awards, presented by Bridgestone, returns to Las Vegas for the 10th year, and for the first time at the Mandalay Bay Events Center, on June 19.

The NHL will celebrate the most talented regular-season players with a “show” only Vegas can present, and to at least 6,500 fans. The NHL will recognize all 31 teams, including Las Vegas' very own Vegas Golden Knights forward Mark Stone, nominated for the Frank J. Selke Trophy. This award is given to the forward voted to best excel in the defensive aspects of the game.

Tune in to NBCSN or Sportsnet at 8 p.m. EST/5 p.m. PST to watch the NHL Awards live.

Join the Host Committee in welcoming hockey stars, fans and our legendary Vegas Golden Knights by posting on social media using the template provided below.

TWITTER

It's the 10th year that #Vegas scores the #NHLAwards to honor the most talented hockey players of the season! 6.5K @NHL fans celebrate hockey for the first time @MandalayBay. #TourismMatters

