Lyngenfjord

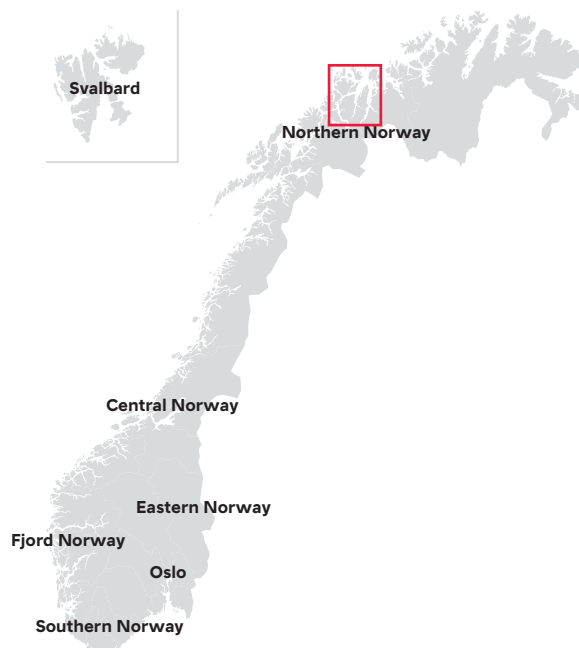

(Northern Norway)

Description

The region between Tromsø Alta and Finland is a region full of contrasts. From the majestic mountain range of the Lyngen Alps to the island around Skjervøy and the deep valleys and inland wilderness area to the east, you can find a huge variety of spectacular nature.

Wintertime is one of the most impressive and stunning seasons of the year, when the snow covers the landscape of a beautiful and untouched arctic, and with adventures where you can experience local and sustainable activities like dog sledding, snowshoeing and whale watching.

Our cozy lodges will let you relax and are hopefully the right place to watch the Northern Lights in the evening. Welcome to a sustainable travel destination, suited for individuals and small groups.
