Comments:	We live near the intersection of 441 and Latana. We never have heard planes and in the past week we seem to have a steady stream. Has there been a change in flight patterns? When can we expect to have our silent skies back? Thank you.

Thank you for your comments.

We have no recent information regarding any changes in routing. General Aviation Pilots fly standard routes, deviations from these routes, while not an infractions, are normally attributed to weather or increased air traffic.

Again, Thank You
